

Destinations of Architecture Graduates (Undergraduate, Masters and Doctoral) from the University of Cambridge 2012-14

31% of graduates did not respond to the survey.

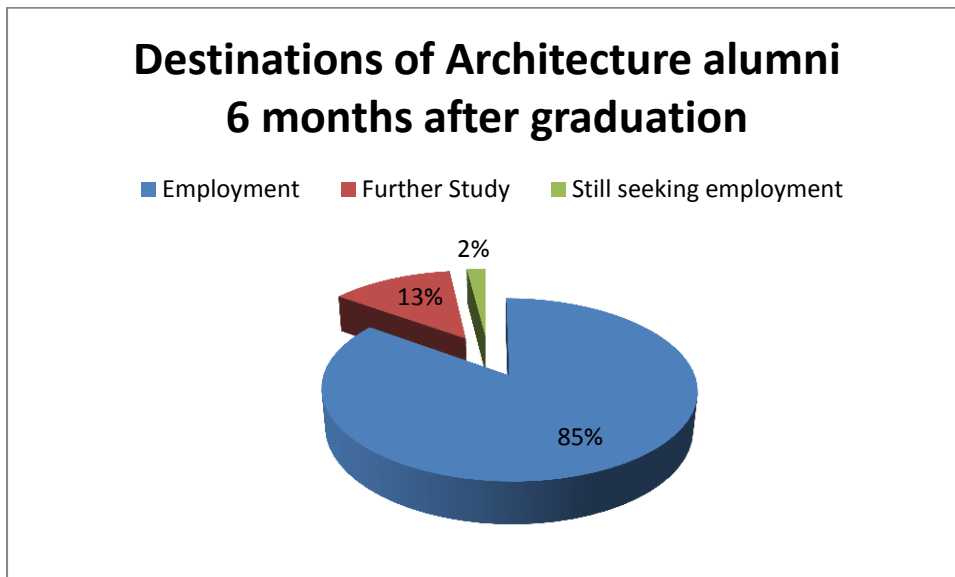

Of those who did respond, the breakdown was as follows:

11 PhD students, 67 Masters Students (MPhil and MSt), 86 Undergraduates

Destinations:

	N	%
Employment	140	85
Further Study	20	13
Still seeking employment	4	2

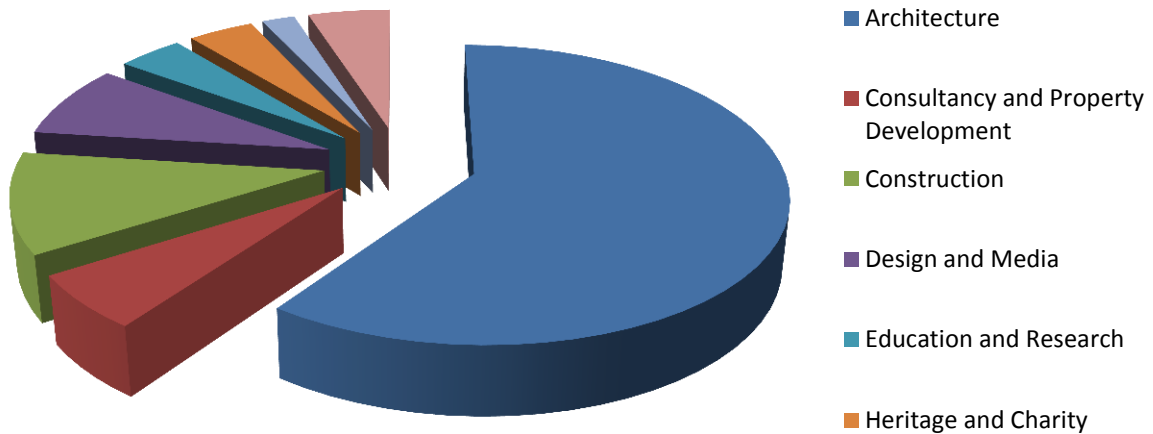

98% of architecture graduates in employment or study 6 months after graduating- with 85% in employment

Graduates have gone on to study at : Imperial College, University College, the British School Rome, Queen Mary University and have carried on their studies at the University of Cambridge

Employment sector	N	% (where known)
Architecture	78	60
Consultancy and Property Development	8	6
Construction	14	11
Design and Media	10	8
Education and Research	5	4
Heritage and Charity	5	4
Hospitality	3	2
Policy and urban planning	7	5
Unknown	10

Employment desination of University of Cambridge Architecture Graduates 2012-14

The majority of our students have gone on to find immediate employment in a range of high-quality architectural firms with a range of different specialisms: from hospitals to stadiums- please see our news feed for information on the most recent design projects by alumni. They have also found success in a range of different careers, both associated with, and further away from, questions of design and the built environment.

Highlights include:

Senior Airport Planner, Mott MacDonald

Head of Building and Projects, Wallace Collection

Executive Head of Property, London Borough of Sutton

Associate Human Settlement Officer, UN-Habitat

Urban Planner, Beijing Tsinghua Urban Planning and Design Institute

Business Research Analyst. Trufflenet

Set Design Intern, Royal Shakespeare Company

Production Assistant, New York African Film Festival

