2012 Housing Architect of the Year)

talks about

'Obsessions and Translations'

30th April 2013 at 6.00pm for 6.30pm

For architecture to operate as both a socialising instrument and meaningful cultural artefact it must embody multiple narratives. These narratives can be a product of project-specific social research, spatial and tectonic exploration, instinct and the subconscious. In this talk Alison Brooks will reveal the multiple processes and narratives informing ABA's synthesis of research and 'cultural production', represented by recent built and unbuilt projects.

Venue: Cambridge University, Engineering Department, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1PZ
